

Smart World Has Varied Interests

By MILDRED MARSHALL KOONCE.

SPRING has undoubtedly arrived at the Capital, judging by the range of warm-season activities which is interesting the society set, though the buds have scarcely begun to swell in Rock Creek Park and the river breezes on Potomac Drive are far from balmy. Polo is one of the first of the outdoor sports to attract fashionable spectators in smart equippages in Potomac Park of an afternoon. Baseball, though ever popular and having a number of society folk among the "fans," is not so unreservedly indorsed as some of the less professional sports. Tennis courts and golf links will claim their following in the coming weeks, while the country clubs are already popular rendezvous on pleasant days, and walking, as a springtime fad, bids fair to rival hitherto unassailable motoring.

When the Washington Kennel Club's annual dog show opened at the Riding and Hunt on Thursday, the first shot was fired for the season of tournaments, country fairs, and exhibitions which mark the progress of summertime diversion. Friday was "society day" and a deal more interest centered in the smart costumes of the fashionable visitors than in the aristocratic canines on exhibition. The list of patronesses included many prominent society women and the entries—representing the cream of dogdom—were favorites chosen from the kennels of the fashionable. Mme. Bakhmeteff, wife of the Russian Ambassador, the Netherlands minister, Mr. Van Rappard, and Mr. Ignacio Leon, of the Chilean embassy, were members of the Diplomatic Corps who exhibited pedigreed canines, and there were also entries from out-of-town, among them dogs belonging to Mrs. Gurnee Munn, Mr. William Travers Jerome, of New York; Mr. George D. Widener, jr., of Elkins Park, Pa.; Miss Marion du Pont, of Wilmington; Mrs. Frank Fayant, and Mrs. O. Carley Harriman, of New York.

The next of the smart shows, the National Capital Horse Show, is scheduled for opening on May 6. This event brings out not only a brilliantly representative gathering from Washington society, but attracts prominent horsemen from all over the East and is signal for a flurry of hospitality. The list of subscribers for this season includes the President, officers of Washington Barracks, officers of Fort Myer, Mrs. W. M. Ritter, Mr. Joseph Leiter, Mr. William Dupont, Mr. William Hitt, Mrs. William Wallace, jr.; Mrs. W. F. Draper, Mrs. D. A. Upson, Gen. James A. Buchanan, Mr. Ord Preston, Mrs. I. T. Mann, Mrs. Charles B. Wood, Mr. Larz Anderson, Col. R. M. Thompson, Mr. E. B. McLean, Mr. William P. Eno, Admiral Brownson, Admiral Clover, Mr. William Littauer, Mrs. L. C. Wetherill, Mrs. Axel Wickfield, Miss Codman, Mr. James A. Andrews, Mr. George H. Myers, Mrs. Mackay-Smith, Mr. Mitchell Harrison, the Rev. Ward Denys, Mrs. Gibson Farnestock, Mrs. E. Pendleton, Mrs. J. W. Wadsworth, Jr., Mrs. Loren Johnston, Mr. H. C. Perkins, Mr. George X. McLanahan, Mr. Robert H. Chapman, Mrs. H. P. Fairbanks, Mrs. Newcomb, Miss Isabel Wells, Mr. A. C. Downing, Mr. Franklin D. Roosevelt, Mr. Thomas B. Sweeney, Dr. F. S. Nash, Mr. A. D. Addison, Mr. Alexander B. Legare, Mrs. Harry Wardman, Mr. W. A. Lieber, Capt. William Mitchell, Col. Charles G. Treat, Mr. James Parmelee, Mrs. Richard Townsend, Mrs. P. G. Gerry, Mr. M. C. Hazen, Mr. Hugh S. Legare, Mr. J.

Maury Dove, Dr. J. B. Bayne, Mrs. H. T. Newcomb, Mr. E. Lee Jones, Admiral Emery, and Col. Henry May.

During the month of May, the interests of the society set will center quite generally in the National Service School near Chevy Chase. The national service idea met with an enthusiastic response from the fashionable matrons and maids of Washington, and the registration includes prominent women from all circles of society. Among the debutantes and members of the younger set who have enrolled are Miss Marie Sims, Miss Lillian Hendricks, Miss Francis Williams, the Misses Scriven, Miss Frances Effinger, Miss Camilla Lippincott, the Misses Hitchcock, Miss Georgia Schofield, Miss Elizabeth Wiley, Miss Pauline Stone, Miss Carolyn Ogden-Jones, Miss Julia Whiting, Miss Dorothy Denys, Miss Eleanor Morgan, Miss Laura Graves, Miss Leita Montgomery, the Misses Littell, Miss Catherine Burdette, and Miss Estella Delano. Not only will the course be most interesting and instructive, but it offers for the resident students in particular, a charming bit of recreation under unusual circumstances and a wholly new experiment for those who have wearied of the social whirl. No more delightful site could be imagined for the school and the costume designed for school use, is a rival in attractiveness to the smartest frock of the season.

Weddings.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. W. Wallace Chiswell in Baltimore street was the scene Thursday afternoon of a beautiful wedding when Miss Josephine M. Maddox, daughter of Mrs. George Richardson, of Fredericksburg, Va., became the bride of Dr. E. Alfred M. Gendreau, U. S. N., of Providence, R. I.

The ceremony, which was performed at 4 o'clock by the Rev. Father Cooper, and followed by a reception, took place in the drawing-room which was decorated with palms and white roses, sweet peas and hyacinths. In the dining-room Richmond roses filled a basket in the center of the table, the color scheme being red, in compliment to the bridegroom, the color of the Medical Corps.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her mother, wore a lovely gown of white satin with long court train with silver trimming. The long tulle veil was fastened with a wreath of orange blossoms and the bridal bouquet was a shower of orchids and sweet peas.

Mrs. W. Wallace Chiswell, who was the bride's only attendant, wore a becoming gown of iridescent sequins and silver over seafoam green taffeta veiled in green tulle. She carried a shower of yellow roses and blue corn flowers, the navy colors.

Dr. R. A. Miller, U. S. N., was the best man. Later Dr. and Mrs. Gendreau left for a wedding trip, Mrs. Gendreau wearing a smart tailored gown of brown and black check with small black straw hat, continental in shape, worn with fox fur.

Dr. Gendreau, who was graduated from the Navy Medical School, is also a graduate of the Georgetown University. Dr. and Mrs. Gendreau will make their home for the present at Seattle, Wash.

To Absorb Freckles And Other Blemishes

Every spring numerous inquiries are made by girls seeking some reliable recipe for removing freckles. Last year very favorable reports were received from many who had used mercorized wax during the freckling season. The wax seems to possess unusual properties which completely absorb the freckles, with no harmful effect. The complexion improves wonderfully, becoming as soft as a rose petal, and as delicately tinted. Get an ounce of mercorized wax at any drugist's, spread a thin layer of it over the entire face every night for a while, washing this off in the morning. For rough, spotty skin, sallowness, blackheads, pimples, and all cutaneous blemishes, this treatment is superior to any other.

Springtime also brings wrinkles to many sensitive skins that are much exposed to winds and changing temperatures. To a half pint witch hazel add an ounce of powdered salicylic acid, which quickly dissolves. Bathe the face in this; the effect on a wrinkled skin is remarkable.—Adv.

TODAY'S BEAUTY HELP

You can keep your hair at its very best by washing it with this simple, inexpensive shampoo, which cleanses the hair and scalp thoroughly of all the dandruff and dirt and leaves a clean, wholesome feeling. Just use a teaspoonful of cantharox dissolved in a cup of hot water, afterwards rinsing thoroughly with clean water. One finds that the hair dries quickly and evenly, is unstreaked, bright, soft and fluffy, so fluffy in fact that it looks more abundant than it is, and so soft that arranging it becomes a pleasure. All scalp irritation will disappear and the hair will be brighter than ever before.—Adv.
